

Hi there!

We are Soleil and together with you we want to improve the mental wellbeing in our society but especially we want to help females enhance their confidence and self-esteem.

We are a pre-seed startup based in Switzerland and Australia. We are preparing to launch a novel software solution that has the potential to significantly increase the quality of life of millions of individuals. The core of our business is a community and smart algorithms which provide personalized recommendations for situation-specific emotional support. Would you like to join us on this challenging journey and release a powerful digital support technology? In order to strengthen our team, we have created the position of Soleil One is (currently) an all-remote company with people working all around the world. Therefore, your position can be based anywhere.

Location

Contract

For the beginning the position is temporary and project-oriented to support us to build the MVP. As soon as we achieve a convincing market validation with the MVP and the team has a feeling that you are a good fit, we will offer you a compelling contract to work with us long-term.

Additional Info

For the next few months, it would be good if you are available nearly full-time and as soon as the workload decreases there would be the possibility for you to devote less time and get more into an advisory role until we reached market validation with the MVP.
